How does the Home Warranty Plan work?

For one small monthly fee, the home warranty plan covers 17 home appliances and four systems of your choice for mechanical failures that occur during normal use. The plan covers those repairs necessary to return your product to its intended functionality under normal operation.

Can I cancel my coverage?

You cancel your plan any time by either calling customer service or logging to user account and cancel.

What is the difference between the Home Warranty Plan and the service plans given by most retailers?

A retailer's plan is costly and only covers the newly gadget for a limited period of time. Retailers usually sell you a new plan for each purchase, and these plans frequently cost more than 20% of the device's initial price.

The electronic warranty plan is a low-cost option that covers all of your registered gadgets. You can also add on new purchases to your coverage with no additional costs.

Why do I need a Home Warranty Plan?

Even modest appliance and system maintenance can be highly costly. If your registered product breaks down due to normal wear and tear during the coverage period, the home warranty plan protects you from footing unexpected repair or replacement costs.

Your registered products are just a phone call away from being diagnosed, repaired, replaced, or refunded. And it's all included in one affordable fee.

How long is the coverage?

As long as you pay the small monthly fee, your coverage will never expire. Alternatively, should you choose to pay annually, the expiration date will be 12 months from the date of payment indicated on the agreement.

Do you take products from anywhere?

Any brand from any retailer is covered by the home warranty plan.

Is the Home Warranty Plan insured?

Yes, the home warranty plan is insured by an A.M. Best "A-" rated insurance company.

Is there any deductible for repairs?

Yes, there is a $75 deductible paid to the technician repairing your appliances or system.

Who repairs my devices if they break?

Only approved service repair personnel are allowed to fix your damaged product. The home warranty plan offers you the same level of assistance that you would receive from the product's manufacturer or seller, if not higher.

How do I file a service request?

You can call customer service to request for service on any of your registered appliances.
